

Galilia Abdel, Islamic Women's Association Queensland

I would say to all women your health is very important, as women are the centre of the family. When you take care of your health it is for yourself, your children, your husband, your whole family who rely on you. More importantly complications can be prevented if health problems are detected early.